

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

VOL. XIX.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, SUNDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 4, 1887.—SIXTEEN PAGES.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

DRY GOODS, SHOES, HATS, ETC.

JOHN KEELY

—WILL—

ON MONDAY INAUGURATE THE FALL SEASON

—BY AN OFFERING OF—

NEW GOODS

—IN—

EVERY DEPARTMENT!

He is Sending from New York Carloads of
New Goods!

His Presence There at This Time is Productive of Magical Results!

Dress Goods! Dress Goods!—Special Attractions in Everything New in DRESS GOODS!

Novelty Dress Goods!—Tricots, Foulle Cloths, Serges, Scotch Novelty Plaids, Camels' Hair Cloth, Ladies' Cloth in All THE NEWEST SHADES, CUT CASHMERE, NOVELTY PIN CHECKS, COMBINATION SUITINGS.

JERSEY JACKETS

In all the new styles.

CASHMERE SHAWLS

For Early Fall.

NEW FALL WRAPS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION

Ladies' Merino Underwear, Gent's Merino Underwear, Children's Underwear.

NEW HOSIERY. NEW GLOVES.

—BY YESTERDAY'S EXPRESS—

Surah Silks, Black Silks, Rhadame Silks, Satin Duchesse, Silk Armures, Satin De Lyon, Silk Brocades, All Silk Plushes.

HOUSEKEEPING GOODS!

THIS DEPARTMENT IS

BRISTLING WITH NEW GOODS JUST IN!

20 Cases Assorted 9-4 and 10-4 Bleached Sheetings! 24 Cases Brown Sheetings—All Widths!
100 Pieces Assorted Table Damasks—Brown, Bleached, Turkey Red. 20 Cents per Yard and Upward!

Linen Towels in Every Style and Quality Desired!

SPECIAL SALE SCHOOL SHOES!

Here may be found everything New for School Wear for Children, Misses, Boys and Youths.

A partial list is given below of the many attractions in

JOHN KEELY'S SHOE DEPARTMENT.

New Fall and Winter Shoes opening now every day.

A superb stock of Ladies', Misses', Children's, Gent's and Boys' Shoes.

The best stock of School Shoes ever shown in this city.

Misses and Children's School Shoes. All the different styles.

Misses and Children's Dress Shoes. All the different styles.

Misses and Children's Pebble Goat Spring Heel Shoes. All sizes.

Misses and Children's Kid Spring Heel Shoes. All sizes.

Boys' and Youths' Shoes in Button and Laced.

THE BEST VARIETY OF LADIES' SHOES EVER SHOWN IN THIS MARKET.

Comprising the following styles, from the Cheapest to the Finest Shoe made.

Kid and Pebble Goat Button, Box Toe and Common Sense Toe.

Calf and Dongola Button, Plain and Box Toe.

Kid and Pebble Goat Laced, Opera, toe and Plain Toe.

Kid and Pebble Goat Congress, all the new shapes.

Old Ladies' Common Sense Shoes, Broad Soles, Flat Heels.

Men's Fine Shoes, Men's Cheap Shoes, Men's Everyday Shoes.

My $2.00 Men's Fine Shoes are the best shoes made for the money. They are in Button, Congress and Bals. They are Solid Leather and Seamless all around. A neat, stylish shoe.

SPECIAL.

Children's and Misses' School Rubber Shoes, a full assortment. Children's, Misses' and Boys' Rubber Coats for School Wear.

ALL AT KEELY'S PRICES.

No Summer Goods will be packed away. The residue of summer stock will be slaughtered for the next three days. Notice the following plums for the lovers of Bargains:

AT 3 CENTS, 2,200 Yards ELEGANT Calicoes.

AT 3 1/2 CENTS, 2,000 Yards NOVELTY GINGHAMS

AT 5 CENTS, 1,250 yards SUPERB GINGHAMS.

AT 6 1/2 CENTS, Other houses ask 10c. for same Goods.

AT 8 CENTS, Entire Stock PRINTED LAWNS, Beautiful Patterns, Best Grades

AT 8 1/2 CENTS, PACIFIC LAWNS.

AT 8 1/2 CENTS, Irish Linen Lawns, Selling elsewhere at 25c. Come early to

AT 9 CENTS, 250 Pieces French GINGHAMS, Dress Styles, Beautiful Patterns,

AT 10 CENTS, Worth 15 Cents.

AT 10 CENTS, Entire Stock of India Suitings, White and Cream. India Linen

AT 12 1/2 CENTS, Plaids, Fancy Lace Checks and Stripes. ALL REDUCED FROM 30 and 25 Cents.

AT 12 1/2 CENTS, India Linens, Plaid Organdies, Brocaded Satin, Plaid Lawns.

These Goods were 25 Cents, now 12 1/2 Cents.

Besides Hundreds of Other Bargains Which Cannot Be Enumerated Here!

A Rare Treat in Store for Lovers of Bargains

—AT—

JOHN KEELY'S.

BEE HIVE.

"The Bee Hive."

When opened to the public we are confident will be the popular trading resort for multitudes of people. Our low prices and the large assortment we are able to offer our patrons will at once be appreciated by all who visit this store. It is our intention to keep before the people the name of our store,

"The Bee Hive,"

that it may be a household word—to do this in a way that will be of interest to every lady to make frequent visits to our store—we shall not, neither do we claim to be able to sell every article at a less price than others, but we do claim that our stock, on an average, will be found to be marked at a much lower price than same goods can be bought elsewhere. Then again we are able and will show many novelties, especially in our

Dress Goods, Kid Gloves, and lace departments, the styles of which are confined to

"The Bee Hive."

Our close connection with importers direct gives us the opportunity of securing the best possible values. Our purpose is to give our customers the benefit of all the bargains we shall secure from

TIME TO TIME.

Every day will see fresh goods and fresh bargains.

Respectfully,
EAGLESTON BROS.

E. R. SCHNEIDER,

601 and 802 Broad St., Augusta, Ga.

Importer and Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Fine Wines, Cigars, Brandies,

TOBACCO, MINERAL WATER,

WHISKIES, GIN, PORTER, ALE, ETC.

AGENT FOR

Veuve Clicquot Ponsardin,

Urban Wine Co., Anheuser-Busch Brewing Ass'n

Prompt Attention Given to Private Orders

W. H. PARKINS, Architect.

J. A. BERRY, Sec. & Treas.

THE ATLANTA

Construction Company

Designs and constructs all kinds of Buildings and their Appurtenances. Plans and Specifications furnished on the usual terms.

OFFICE No. 9 N. BROAD STREET,

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

P. O. Box 396.

Telephone 791.

FURNITURE AND CARPETS.

FURNITURE!! CARPETS!!

ANDREW J. MILLER & SON

Leading Dealers in

FURNITURE AND CARPETS

And Makers of

UPHOLSTERY GOODS

Invite your attention to their elegant stock. Having thoroughly canvassed the Eastern and Western markets, we claim to be fully up in style, quality and price. All the popular and merchantable woods are worked up in desirable pieces of useful and ornamental household Furniture.

Our CARPET DEPARTMENT—very much enlarged and on the ground floor—is enriched with all grades of floor coverings, from the plain, strong and bold designs, and colorings to the most subdued, chaste and elegant effects.

Our UPHOLSTERY FABRICS are new, elegant and durable.

Our large variety of goods and our increasing trade enables us to meet any demands made upon us for styles and prices.

Get our new Catalogue and come to see us before you buy.

42 and 44 PEACHTREE STREET,
ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

The Largest Stock of Carriages Spring and Farm Wagons in the South.

STANDARD WAGON COMPANY,

H. L. ATWATER, Manager,

39, 41 and 43 Decatur Street, and 74 Peachtree Street,

ATLANTA, GA.

Goods to the Trade at Manufacturers' Prices.

WRITE FOR PRICES. COME AND SEE US.

Manufacturers of General Agents for

CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, McLEAR & KENDALL,

ROAD CARTS, Fine Landaus, Victrolas,

SPRING & FARM WAGONS, Rockaways, T. Cars, Etc.

GENERAL AGENTS FOR

MILBURN WAGON CO.

38 Years Before the People. Buy the

—OLD RELIABLE—

—H. L. ATWATER—

TITLE GUARANTEE COMPANY.

Land Title Warranty and Safe Deposit Co.

OF ATLANTA.

28 PEACHTREE STREET AND ROOMS 1 AND 2 CONSTITUTION BUILDING

CAPITAL STOCK $100,000.00.

T. B. NEAL, President. ABBOTT & SMITH, Att.

Business enterprise no less than business prudence demands that you have your titles warrant proposing to buy cheap property which your vendor is indifferent about selling? To be sure trouble about the title, have it warranted for your own benefit. Are you wanting to sell to a different on account of the title? Clinch the trade by having the title warranted for the benefit of yourself. Are you proposing to sell at public outcry? Guard against luke-warm bidding by announcing that "Titles will be warranted by the LAND TITLE WARRANTY COMPANY." Are you seeking a on your property at low interest? Obtain a certificate of warranty on your title transmissible as collateral to your mortgage, and you need nothing more. Send for circular. Address, ALEX. W. SMITH, Secretary.

LIME, CEMENT AND COAL.

TO BE GIVEN AWAY!

A BEAUTIFUL set of Solitaire DIAMOND Ear Rings, with every ton of Lump Coal purchased from us this season. We will give you a ticket entitling you to a chance of securing a lovely set of

DIAMOND EARRINGS. When you give your order a duplicate of it and a number of same will be dropped into a box at our office, and on the first of next April, at 10 o'clock, a. m., a little boy will open the box and take therefrom one of the duplicates, the number of which shall take the Diamonds and the lucky holder can receive the Earrings immediately. This is no lottery or humbug scheme, but a method we have adopted to advertise our magnificent Jellico Parlor Coal. We will have the Diamonds on exhibition in a few days.

No. 8 Loyd st. SCIPLE SONS.

SCIPLE SONS,

Lime, Plaster Paris, Cements, Terra Cotta, Stove Flue,

ABSOLUTELY FIRE-PROOF AND REDUCES INSURANCE.

Sewer Pipe, Terra Cotta Chimney Tops, Stove Thimbles, Fire Brick,

Fire Clay, Laths, Cypress and Pine Shingles, Plasterers' Hair, Marble Dust, White Sand, Best Grate and Smith Coals.

NO. 8 LOYD STREET, NEAR MARKHAM HOUSE, ATLANTA, GA.

BROKERS.

W. E. BERRY. M. B. SWANSON. Late of Simmons Hardware Co.

W. E. BERRY & CO.,

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.,

Real Estate, Bonds and Stocks

P. O. BOX 422.

FOR SALE-BICYCLE.

FOR SALE—BICYCLE

FOR SALE—SPLENDID VICTOR II
1887 make; three months old; cost $

Young men's prayer meeting Thursday 8 p. m. All are cordially invited.

WANTED—SOME AFTERNOON SH and type-writer work: pre.or emp; law office; reference furnished. Address: Constitution office.

Rankin's chapel, corner Glenn and Martin streets.
Sunday school at 4 p. m. Song praise and Bible reading by Rev. M. J. ...

A YOUNG TRAVELING MAN WITH executive ability for business desires in Atlanta. Also furnished room for self. Best references. Address Transient, Co. office.

West End Presbyterian church. Services will be held in the Oak street chapel at 10 a. m. by Prof. W.

WANTED-A LADY DESIRES SETTLEMENT
 WITH A MAN, 35 YEARS OLD, WHO HAS
 EMPLOYMENT OF SOME KIND. SOME REFERENCE
 TO GOOD REFERENCES. ADDRESS "V" CARE
 OF THE EDITOR.

WANTED-A SITUATION BY A RECENTLY
 GRADUATE OF COLLEGE AND PRESENTLY WITHOUT THE FIRM INTENTION OF LEAVING THE COUNTRY. ADDRESS
 "V" CARE OF THE EDITOR.

WANTED-A LADY DESIRES SETTLEMENT
 WITH A MAN, 35 YEARS OLD, WHO HAS
 EMPLOYMENT OF SOME KIND. SOME REFERENCE
 TO GOOD REFERENCES. ADDRESS "V" CARE
 OF THE EDITOR.

Emanuel chapel, North Atlanta. Sunday school at 3:30 p. m.

A YOUNG LADY DESIRES A POST
teacher in a private family. Teaching mathematics and the rudiments of French. References exchanged. Address
Broadus, Minor, Essex Co., Va. sun

WANTED—SITUATION BY A YOUNG of successful experience, to teach Latin, French and instrumental music.
References exchanged if desired. Address, M.
M. Glendower P. O., Albemarle county, sun-mo.

A LADY WISHES AN ASSISTANT'S PL
school or would teach in a family.
small school or music class, or would do any of the above.

the people. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., A. C. Briscoe, superintendent. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 7:30.

GOODCOOK WANTED—WHITE OR colored for a small family; no children. Apply 1141 Ham street.

LADY TEACHER OF LARGE EXPERIENCE desires a situation as teacher in a family. Estimates, English, Latin. Address, Teachers' 5th street, Canton, Ohio.

WANTED—BY A LADY WITHOUT children, a pleasant situation in some first-class household, linen room, or charge of pantries.

chapel, corner of Oak and Ashby streets, at 4 o'clock p.m. Dr. Wm. Crenshaw, pastor.

DUNNVILLE, Essex county, Va.

BOARDS WANTED.

LOCAL, TRANSIENT AND DAY BOARDERS. I can furnish delightful rooms, polite attendants, excellent food at Nos. 26 and 28, N. Forsyth street, near the city hall.

PARTIES VISITING NEW YORK can find a very desirable place to stay at the Forsyth Hotel, N. Forsyth street, near the city hall. Terms $2 per day, $10 per week. Write to W. West street, between 5th and Broadway.

THE ATLANTA FEMALE INSTITUTE. Peachtree street, will be open for boarders from June 15th to September 1st, sun tue fri wks.

FIRST-CLASS BOARD CAN BE HAD at the R. Fryor street, central location, and business. Day boarders especially. Write to Mrs. R. M. Kennedy.

NEW MORE BOARDERS CAN BE AD-

1 a. m. Sunday school at 2:30 p. m., J. F. Beck, superintendent.

BOARDERS WANTED—VERY DESIRABLE ROOMS, with board, at Mrs. Hollingsworth's, No. 16 West Ellis st., near Peachtree. 81 W

NICELY FURNISHED ROOMS WITH BOARD at 19 East Mitchell street; day board desired.

WANTED—FEW BOARDERS CAN FIND accommodations at No. 14 Cooper street, new, newly furnished, room large and commodious, hot and cold water bath, closets. References exchanged.

WANTED BOARDERS—TWO NICELY of his well known scholarship and wide range of general information, as well as his recognized ability

DRY GOODS FROM NEW YORK
AT LOWEST PRICES
 Mail Orders Promptly and carefully filled, Samples and estimates free of charge. See

J. W. CULPEPPER, Secretary.

PARTNERSHIP NOTICE

—••—

We the undersigned have this day formed a partnership under the firm name of

There has been more activity the past week in for the purpose of conducting a real estate and ing business. We propose to give our entire tion to the business. We solicit the patrona our friends, and of all others who have pre either to sell or to rent. All business entrusted our care will receive prompt and faithful atten Office 151 1/2 Broadway, New York City

y city in the south, and enjoy the best society in a world. We have had in our office buyers within

THE LINEN STORE

...ing, and to locate. We have everything to encourage us in the future of Atlanta.

42 DECATUR STREET,
(Opposite Young Men's Library.)
I beg to inform the public that I have a to my business a Retail Department

the greatest bargains. We respectfully invite you to

I purpose to keep, as formerly, the best and finest assortment of pure Irish and Scotch Linens. All who are in need of genuine Linen goods will find it greatly to their benefit to call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere.

25 PEACHTREE ST.

THE GEORGI MIDLAND & GULF R.
SHORT LINE TO COLUMBUS & WARM SPRING
Time table in effect August 23d, and until further notice.

Monday Sept 13 1887 at Three O'Clock. P. M.

Leave Columbus.....	7 20 am	3 50
Arrive at Warm Springs.....	9 16 am	3 48
" Griffin.....	11 00 am	7 40
" Atlanta, C. R. R.....	1 05 pm	3 49
" Macon, C. R. R.....	6 30 pm	10 50
" Savannah, C. R. R.....	6 15 am	6 15

oved. A part of the four acres contains a splendid monite quarry, 70 yards from the railroad.

Leave Savannah, C. R. R.	7 10 am	8 20
" Atlanta, C. R. R.	2 20 pm	3 00
" Macon, C. R. R.	2 00 pm	8 35
" Griffin	4 10 pm	5 50
Arrive at Warm Springs	5 48 pm	7 37
" Columbus	7 45 pm	9 30

FOR SALE—BICYCLE.

FOR SALE—SPECIAL VICTOR CYCLES, 54-58, 1887 make, by Rev. J. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, corner of Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—SOME AFTERNOON SHORTHAND and typewriter work, piece employment in law office, reference furnished. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

SITUATION WANTED BY A COMPETENT BOOK keeper; best of reference. Address W. G. S. care this office.

A YOUNG TRAVELING MAN WITH GOOD executive ability for business desires a local job in Atlanta. Also a night room for sell and wife. Best references. Address Transient, Constitution office.

SITUATION WANTED BY A COMPETENT bookkeeper; best of reference. Address W. G. S. care this office.

WANTED—A COMPETENT AND ACTIVE traveling salesman, acquainted with the trade of Atlanta, to sell a new line of goods. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A SITUATION BY A RELIABLE man of good judgment, capable of doing any kind of work. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A SITUATION in a college as a teacher in literary department, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

A YOUNG LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

WANTED—A LADY DESIRES A POSITION as a teacher in a school, or as a governess. Address: A. H. H. Barrett, 1111 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. Address H. H. Barrett, care Constitution.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED—TWO DRUG CLERKS—ONE to fill prescriptions, manufacture and keep books; one to travel and do general store work; experience and salary expected. Address: John Crawford & Co., Athens, Ga. sun tue wed 4.

WANTED—TWO GOOD CARRIAGE PAINTERS; come at once. J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—AT HOME, GA., TWELVE GOOD stone masons, to work on the Armstrong hotel. sat sun

WANTED—ACTIVE TRAVELING SALESMAN to sell in West and South. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—THREE OR FOUR MOULDERS AT Hamilton's Flour Factory. sat sun

WANTED—MAN TO TAKE THE AGONY OF his wife; she is 23 years old; weight 100 lbs.; retail price $35; other sizes in proportion. A new change to create a retail business at home. This sales meet a demand never before supplied by other sales companies, as we are not governed by the Sales Pool. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—A FIRST-CLASS TAILOR AT ONCE. Address: Austin & Grist, Marietta, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—POSITION OF BOOKKEEPER OR salesman. Best of references given. Not afraid of work. Address: Box 43, Conyers, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—A TEACHER FOR THE FALL TERM commencing first Monday in October next, in the Millen High School. School to be taken on its merits. Good opportunity for a live man. Address: W. J. Lester, secretary school board, Millen High School. sat sun

WANTED—BY AUSTRALIAN CHAIR WORKS, ONE Dobbie & Shervinton. Apply at once to Dobbie & Shervinton. sat sun

WANTED—A YOUNG MAN AS CLERK; MUST write a good hand; quick and accurate at figures; and willing to make himself generally useful. Apply with references to J. A. M. Collier, P. F. Collier, 43 Fiftieth street. sat sun

WANTED—3 CABINET MAKERS, 3 MACHINE hands and 2 first class painters. Address: W. J. Lester, secretary school board, Millen High School. sat sun

I WANT A YOUNG MAN 16 TO 18 YEARS OLD to work in my laboratory, corner Mitchell and French. Must come with good references, and not afraid to work. Call on me at 214 1/2 Peachtree street. sat sun

WANTED—TWO GOOD BREAD HANDS and one man to play bag and matching machine. Apply to W. S. Bell, 214 1/2 Peachtree street. sat sun

WANTED—A NO. 4 COOK, ALSO GOOD waiter, French, German, Italian, English, French, restaurant, No. 4 Wall st. Good wages to the right man. sat sun

WANTED—MONDAY MORNING, TWO BLACKsmiths, capable of doing all kinds of work. Address: W. J. Lester, secretary school board, Millen High School. sat sun

WANTED—SOME ONE TO TEACH TELEGRAPHY. Must be quick at figures and furnish exceptional references. Apply Tuesday 8 to 9 a. m. J. M. High. sat sun

WANTED—FOUR GOOD STOCK BOYS TO learn the business 15 to 18 years old. M. Rich & Bro. sat sun

TWO BRICK MASONS, APPLY MONDAY TO Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—A FIRST CLASS CARRIAGE DRESSmaker, with good recommendation, 12 East Alabama street. sat sun

WANTED—THREE GOOD STOUT WHITE boys, 16 years old, to learn truck making. J. C. Baker, corner Fourth and West. sat sun

WANTED—TWO SOLICITORS WELL qualified in city. Liberal pay and permanent employment. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—INDUSTRIOUS BOY TO CLERK in store. Apply to 115 Whitehall street. sat sun

WANTED—BOY 14 TO 16 YEARS OLD as a clerk. Must be quick at figures and furnish exceptional references. Apply Tuesday 8 to 9 a. m. J. M. High. sat sun

WANTED—MEN TO SELL SPRING BEDS, LACE curtains, rugs, clocks, lamps, etc. J. H. Williams, 103 Whitehall street. sat sun

HELP WANTED—FEMALE.

WANTED—FOUR MUSIC AND ART TEACHERS. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

EXPERIENCED HANDS WANTED TO MAKE pants at Selig Bros. & Co., 47 Decatur street. sat sun

WANTED—YOUNG LADIES AT HOME to color photographs for us by a new process. No instructions. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—LADIES FOR OUR FINEST and most desirable goods. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—A NURSE OF LARGE EXPERIENCE to take care of a sick child. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—IMMEDIATELY, A RELIABLE nurse to take charge of two babies. Apply at 214 1/2 Peachtree street. sat sun

WANTED—A GOOD SERVANT, L. R. D. woman, 18 to 20 years old, to wait on table and do housework. Apply at 436 Peachtree street. sat sun

WANTED—A LADY TO KEEP BOOKS FOR A lady retail grocery store. Light work. Give address and salary expected. A. E. C. Constitution office. sat sun

WANTED—TRIMMERS, SALESLADIES AND experienced hands. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—TWO OR THREE ENERGETIC lady and gentlemen solicitors; the right party can make $100 per month. Call at once at convenient. Charles D. Barker & Co., 125 S. Broad street. sat sun

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—TO NEGOTIATE WITH A RESTAURANT to supply 600 guaranteed meals per day. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—NORTH-UNITED STATES ARMY and Navy. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—A SMALL HOUSE OR GENTLE pony in exchange for three feathered friends and a half Jersey bull calf. 25 1/2 miles from Atlanta. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—A COTTAGE HOUSE BUILT, WILL give 3-room house and corner lot in part payment; balance in cash. J. A. B. this office. 71 sat sun

WANTED—TO EXCHANGE FOR A DOUBLE ended horse, a fine black stallion, 6 years old, 16 hands, 16 lbs. in head and hip, get down and retrieve. Best of references. Address: "Exchange," 47 S. Broad street. sat sun

WANTED—A NO. 4 COOK STOVE, MUST BE in good condition. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—TWO OFFICE DESKS—ONE ROLL top and one flat top; must be in good condition. Address: "Desk," No. 9, Kimball house, Monday morning. sat sun

I WANT A GOOD SECOND-HAND TWO-HORSE wagon. Call corner Pryor and Mitchell street. sat sun

WANTED—DELIVERY WAGON AND HARNESS. Apply 101 Marietta street, Monday evening. sat sun

WE WANT TO BUY A LARIE YOUNG MULE and good dry. Will buy them separately or together. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—ORDERS FOR PIANO TUNING and repairing. Now is the time to have your piano put in order for the fall work. Will not do better than to send your orders for such work to the undersigned. Thirty years experience in the business—25 years in Atlanta. Best city references. J. C. Clark, 30 Marietta avenue. sat sun

SEND IN YOUR PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS for bank counters and fixtures for estimate. H. M. Butler. sat sun

WANTED—EVERY COUNTRY MERCHANT to know that I have just received 4,000 pieces of goods from the South, including all the latest styles of clothing, hats, shoes, etc. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

WANTED—A FURNISHED ROOM BY TWO gentlemen. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—A FURNISHED ROOM AND BOARD for young men. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—TO LEASE FOR ONE OR MORE years, a six or seven room house, with servants' room, kitchen and modern improvements; must be near in and go in neighborhood. Address: Emma, care Constitution. sat sun

WANTED—TWO OR THREE ROOMS, FURNISHED, for rent. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

WANTED—BOARD FOR FAMILY OF FOUR grown people, medium price. Address: Pryor street, corner of Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga. sat sun

BUSINESS CHANCES.

RACE CHANCE—A SMALL CAPITAL WILL buy an established business that pays 40 per cent on investment. Good reasons for selling. For particulars call at 208 Jones street. sat sun

HOTEL AND STORE ROOM FOR SALE. I WILL sell my hotel and store room, with all the furniture and fixtures, for sale. Address: J. R. Carmichael & Co., Jackson, Ga. sat sun

BUSINESS CHANCE—DEEP MARKET, No. 4 Pullman street for rent. Splendid neighborhood. Apply next door to M. K. Murphy. sat sun

FOR SALE—COAL YARD LEASE. GOOD WELL situated. 100 ft. x 100 ft. Capital ave. sat sun

FOR RENT—HOUSE, COTTAGE, ETC. FOR RENT—7 ROOM HOUSE, 1211 WASHINGTON street. Very desirable. Apply 65 1/2 Peachtree street. sat sun

FOR RENT—A SIX ROOM HOUSE NEXT TO 1111 Peachtree street. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

FOR RENT—PEACHTREE RESIDENCE, 10 rooms, 9 closets, 3 water closets, 2 bath tubs, hot and cold water, plenty of shade, first-class in every respect. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

FOR RENT—NO. 6 PULLMAN, SEPTEMBER 1st. 6-room house, water and gas, good neighborhood. Apply next door to M. K. Murphy. sat sun

FOR RENT—BEAUTIFUL SIX ROOM HOUSE, just completed, good neighborhood, excellent water, gas, and electricity. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

FOR RENT—NICE COTTAGE WITH FOUR rooms on street car line. Apply 41 Pullman street. sat sun

FOR RENT—A FOUR ROOM NEAT AND NEW house, with all the modern improvements. Room each 14 feet on inside; gas in every room and bath; room, stationary washstand, water closet; good neighborhood. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

FOR RENT—SEVEN ROOM HOUSE ON WHITEhall street, near Peachtree street. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

SOME NICE ROOMS FOR RENT, 70% FORTYSETH street. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

CHOICE ROOMS—2 CHOICE FRONT ROOMS, suitable for office, bed rooms or cotton office, with modern improvements. Apply to M. K. Murphy. sat sun

FOR RENT—NO. 14 SOUTH PRYOR STREET, WATER and gas, 14 rooms, 14 closets, 14 baths, real estate agent, No. 12 W. Mitchell street. In this sun, 1 f sat sun

FOR RENT—ONE LARGE PLEASANT ROOM, also one small room suitable for single gentlemen. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

FOR RENT—TWO LARGE CONNECTING rooms, with closets. Apply at 149 Spring street, between Cain and Harris. sat sun

FOR RENT—LARGE AIRY ROOMS IN a new building, with all the modern improvements. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

FOR RENT—A LARGE BUSINESS ROOM, ALSO two connecting rooms, light housekeeping. Call at 70% Whitehall street. sat sun

FOR RENT—FARLOR—TWO BED ROOMS, DINING room, bath, and kitchen. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

FOR RENT—THREE OR FOUR NICE ROOMS for housekeeping, 206 Spring st., one block from the Hill. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

Furnished Rooms.

FOR RENT—VERY DESIRABLE FURNISHED room. Apply 65 1/2 Peachtree street. sat sun

ROOMS, FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED.

ROOM—UNFURNISHED, IN PRIVATE FAMILY, with all the modern improvements. Terms reasonable. References exchanged. Within 30 minutes' walk of new state capital. Call at 68 Terry street. sat sun

FOR RENT—FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED rooms at 103 Courtland street. sat sun

ROOMS FOR RENT—TWO OR THREE UNFURNISHED rooms, cheap. At No. 30 W. Mitchell street. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

FOR RENT—TWO ELEGANT ROOMS, UNFURNISHED, near in. No. 58 Luckie street. Reference exchanged. sat sun

Rooms for rent with or without board.

FOR RENT—TWO COMFORTABLE ROOMS, with or without board, centrally located, on Peachtree street car line. Address "C," care Constitution office. sat sun

TO RENT—TWO COMFORTABLE ROOMS, with or without board; centrally located, on Whitehall street car line. Address C, care Constitution office. sat sun

Miscellaneous.

FOR RENT—STORE ROOM, No. 21 SOUTH Peachtree street, with double entrance, also, large commodious rooms up stairs. Apply to J. E. L. Connally. sat sun

FOR RENT—A SMALL NEAT ROOM, SUITABLE for fruit and vegetable store. Apply to A. W. Butler, Evans street. sat sun

CALL AT ONCE IF YOU WISH TO RENT ONE or two rooms, with all the modern improvements. Apply to M. K. Murphy. sat sun

FOR RENT BY TALLEY & GALLAGHER, No. 77 South Pryor street. sat sun

HOUSES ON WALKER STREET, PETERS street, Washington street, several nice houses for rent. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun Persons having dwelling houses to rent, would consult their interest by placing them in our hands. We can rent them. Come and see Talley & Gallagher. sat sun

WE MAKE RENTING A SPECIALTY, AND OUR Mr. Gallagher gives this department prompt, personal attention. Talley & Gallagher. sat sun

For Rent by Smith & Dallas, No. 43 South Broad street. sat sun

12 ROOM HOUSE, VERY NEAR FIRST METHODIST church. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

10 ROOM HOUSE, VERY NEAR GOVERNOR'S MANSION. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

8 ROOM HOUSE, CAPITAL AVENUE, GILGIE. Address: Southern Phosphate Co., on Richmond and Danville railroad, foot of Houston street. sat sun

</

THE CONSTITUTION

Published Daily and Weekly.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION
Is delivered by carriers in the city, or mailed, postage free, at $10.00 per month, $2.50 for three months, or $10.00 a year.

THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION
(circulation over 110,000) is mailed, post-paid, for $1.25 a year, or for $1.00 in clubs of five or more. Address all letters to

THE CONSTITUTION,
Atlanta, Georgia.

ATLANTA, GA., SEPTEMBER 4, 1887.

The Visit of President and Mrs. Cleveland.
The reception and entertainment of President and Mrs. Cleveland, at Atlanta, during the Piedmont exposition, will be a series of events memorable forever to those who witness them.

For the first time a democratic president will set foot on Georgia soil. Additional interest is given to this, by the fact that it is the man who led the democratic party from twenty-five years of defeat into glorious victory, and who restored the south to the confidence of the nation to their full rights and partnership in the union.

President Cleveland does not pay us a formal pop-call. He comes in the old-fashioned democratic way, bringing his wife and friends with him, and staying with us three nights and two days. He gives Atlanta more time than any city on its entire route, because he is anxious to meet our people, study our resources, and know something from personal observation of our folks and the wonderful riches of our Piedmont region. He especially wants to meet the people face to face and be accessible the whole time of his visit. Every visitor who wishes to do so can reasonably count on shaking his hand and giving him a word of welcome.

The scenes attending the president's reception and entertainment will be superb and splendid. The illumination of Kennesaw mountain, with artillery on its heights, and a flight of five thousand rockets from its crest by electric match, will be a sight never seen before. The sham battle, covering seventy acres, with four batteries of artillery, ten companies of cavalry and thousands of foot soldiers, will be an incomparable spectacle.

The torchlight procession of ten thousand young democrats in line, with the whole city illuminated, and the air full of color and sound, will be inspiring. The exposition itself will be an enormous show, full of interest and instruction.

Now let us make the president's visit here the significant and overwhelming feature of his entire tour. Let us show him the south at her best, and let him know that the people love him and honor him. It is because he wants to know the south better that he gives Atlanta more time than any other city on his route. When he stands up to speak to us, let him look into the faces of more southerners than any man, living or dead, has ever seen assembled.

Judge B. H. BIGHAM's letter to Seniors Jackson and Davidson, published in another column, makes it clear that he is not a candidate for the associate justiceship of the supreme court and that he does not desire the office. Judge Bigham's remarks concerning the arduous labors and the inadequate compensation of our supreme court judges deserve thoughtful consideration.

A Previous Statesman.
The Hon. Roger Q. Mills, of Texas, is the victim of previous in its most exaggerated form. In some parts of Texas Mr. Mills is considered a great man. His admirers in that region have succeeded in convincing him that he is a great man.

In the last congress Mr. Mills was next to Mr. Morrison on the ways and means committee. Since Mr. Morrison's constituents have given him a rest from congressional labors Mr. Mills stands ready to serve the country as chairman of the ways and means committee. His friends in Texas speak of this as Mr. Mills's right, and a local newspaper has served notice on Mr. Carlisle that if he does not appoint Mr. Mills chairman of this committee Texas will be "insulted."

Mr. Mills is, to all appearances, already preparing himself for the discharge of the onerous duties which devolve upon the chairman of the ways and means committee. He has gone to Washington to mature his plans and scenes and associations which are more suggestive of mighty deeds of statecraft than his picturesque surroundings in Texas.

Indeed, Mr. Mills has confessed to an interviewer that this has been his recent occupation. He says he is preparing a tariff bill to be submitted to congress at its next session. Now, the chairman of the ways and means committee is the person who submits tariff bills to congress. Any member can offer a tariff bill, but only its title will be read to the house. It will then be referred to the committee on ways and means. The only tariff bills submitted to the house are those which meet the approval of the committee, and are reported through its chairman.

Mr. Mills talks like a man who is sure of his ground. He imagines that he is already chairman of the ways and means committee. One would suppose, from his manner, that he and Mr. Carlisle have talked the matter all over since they met in Washington, and have unanimously agreed that the country needs the services of Mr. Mills at the head of the most important committee of the house.

If there were no other evidence of the utter unfitness of Mr. Mills for this position his own interview would be enough. He says that Mr. Randall and his followers "should be forced to fall into line or be read out of the party."

This is the first time we have heard of reading men out of the democratic party since Mr. Morrison's abortive efforts to reform the tariff.

Mr. Mills is violently opposed to a reduction of internal revenue taxes. His tariff bill would not relieve the people of these taxes. Every democrat who favors internal revenue reduction is to be "read out of the party" according to the Mills programme. Not long ago the democrats of Virginia declared unanimously against internal revenue taxes. The democrats of Pennsylvania declared as the first revenue reformer the reduction of the internal revenue. This is the prevailing opinion among the democrats of North Carolina and Tennessee. Mr. Mills would read out of the party the democrats of three reliable democratic states. The passage of such a bill as he would propose would probably cause the democrats to lose Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee, thus insuring disastrous defeat in 1888.

But we do not believe that Mr. Mills will be the chairman of the ways and means committee, notwithstanding the jubilant confidences of his friends and the laborious preparations of Mr. Mills for the discharge of the functions of the chief tariff reformer of the next congress. Surely Mr. Carlisle's calm reflections will induce him to protect the democratic party from such a calamity.

The St. Louis Republic is in a state of mind because the Rev. Sam Small recently said: "I was born a democrat, raised a democrat. I studied its principles fully. I worked for it. I have spent money for it. I have drunk whisky for it. I have lied for it. I did all I told me, and it took me within a half mile of hell." The Republican urges Mr. Small to return to the Republic, plead guilty to ballot-box stuffing in open court, and go to the chain-gang. Our contemporary is unduly excited. Mr. Small has never injured any political party in Georgia by the work he has put in against it.

Jews in America.
The increase of the Jewish population of the United States has been remarkable. In 1845 in a population of 20,000,000 there were only 50,000 Jews. Today the number is at least 500,000. So that, while the entire population of the United States has increased three fold in forty years, the number of Jews has increased ten fold.

The United States is now the fourth country in the world in the number of its Jewish citizens. Russia, Austria, and Germany have more; but at the present rate of increase it will not be long before this country has the largest Jewish population in the world.

To the excellent character of our Jewish population every fair-minded citizen must bear testimony. Their enterprise, industry and thrift have made them powerful in commerce. They have also become distinguished for their public spirit, their support of benevolent institutions, and their general good conduct as citizens. A more conservative, or more law-abiding element is not to be found in this country.

The loan of twenty paintings by Mr. George L. Seney from his private gallery to the Piedmont exposition is an event in southern art circles. Mr. Seney's gallery ranks with Vanderbilt's and Walter's as the best, and a selection of twenty paintings from his walls will be a revelation to our people.

A Very Old Story.
The young bank clerk at Saco, Maine, who ran away, the other day, with $300,000, did just what others in his situation have always done and always will do.

This boy, for he was only nineteen, was trusted to an unlimited extent. He was deeply religious, and went to church early and late. His piety was ostentatious, and should have put people on their guard, but it blinded everybody. The bank managers made a pet of him, and in social and religious circles he was very popular. The old fools at the head of the bank, and the other old fools who controlled the business of Saco, never for a moment thought that the young clerk could go wrong. How could he? He was not the most pious youth in Saco?

The bank directors have not yet recovered from their astonishment. And yet they have had warnings in the numerous similar cases occurring all over the country. They knew that it was the most flagrant sort of criminal negligence on their part to tempt this raw youth as they did, and they should be made to suffer for it. We would not say a word to shield the fugitive clerk from the consequences of his crime, but we feel that the bank officers are about as much to blame as the youthful pet. Is it not about time for people to understand that a bank must be run upon strictly business principles? This is the lesson of the Saco affair.

Mississippi Corn for Illinois.
The growing independence of the south is illustrated by a news item in the New Orleans Picayune, which states that Illinois farmers propose to transport thousands of hogs from the drought stricken regions of that state to northern Mississippi where corn is abundant.

The idea of fattening Illinois hogs on Mississippi corn would have been deemed the perfection of folly a few years ago. Mississippi then depended on Illinois and the other western states for almost all her supplies of meat and corn. This year the corn crop in Mississippi is very large, and there will be plenty to supply the wants of the unfortunate Illinois farmers.

This incident may serve to impress upon Mississippi, and the other states of the south, the importance of self-reliance.

Sham battle at Piedmont park. On Cleveland's military day, will be a surprising spectacle. Four batteries of artillery, eighteen brass bands, ten companies of cavalry and sixty companies of infantry, under General Young's energetic handling, ought to make the earth tremble, if they don't.

Arbitration With England.
Less than a year ago there was a prospect of serious trouble between the United States and England over the Canadian fisheries. A few demagogues in the United States senate at that time did all they could to arouse hostile feelings in both countries. Fortunately these cheap politicians were not able to control the policy of our government.

The dispute with Canada is to be settled on business principles. A joint commission, composed of representatives of the United States and Canada, will meet and settle all disputed points about the fisheries. England evidently intends to have her case ably presented. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has been appointed as her chief representative. With him will be associated Sir John Macdonald, the premier of Canada, and probably Sir Lyon Playfair, the eminent scientist, who is well acquainted in this country, may also be one of the English commissioners.

Mr. Chamberlain is recognized as one of the ablest men in England. He entered parliament only ten years ago, but he had been in the house of commons a very short while before he went right to the front. He was formerly one of Mr. Gladstone's most efficient lieutenants, and had a place in the last Gladstone ministry, but he was one of the liberals who broke with their great leader on the Irish question and formed an alliance with the Tories to defeat him.

Recently Mr. Chamberlain has opposed some of the government's measures, and at one time it was thought that he would no longer support the Salisbury administration. Possibly his appointment as the head of the British commission is intended to strengthen his allegiance to the Tory cabinet.

Mr. Chamberlain's large experience in practical affairs will serve him well in the performance of his duties as a member of the joint commission.

In addition to a university course he received a fine business education from his father, who was a successful London merchant. He conducted a large manufacturing business at Birmingham until a few years ago when he retired with a large fortune. Mr. Chamberlain is one of the readiest and most effective speakers in England. From the beginning of his public career he has not hesitated to meet anybody in parliament or on the hustings. Several times he has been put forward as the best man to reply to Mr. Gladstone. Another characteristic of Mr. Chamberlain which is as pronounced as his ability or his audacity is his firmness. He is a man of mild manners and conciliatory tone, but when he once takes a stand he is very hard to move.

One of his colleagues said of him: "Joe Chamberlain has as much will as a woman." Should he acquire himself creditably on the joint commission, Mr. Chamberlain, who is still a comparatively young man, will strengthen the great influence he has already acquired in England.

President Cleveland has not yet appointed the United States representative on the commission. It is supposed that Minister Phelps will be at the head of the delegation. As the result of the deliberations of this joint commission we may expect a final settlement of the petty and annoying quarrels about the fisheries along the Canadian coast.

Our Natural Resources.
The Southern Lumberman repeats the advice frequently given in these columns to the owners of timbered land, coal and iron beds, and farming lands. It says: "We say, now, that twenty small enterprises, owned and operated by southern men, on southern soil, better than one twenty times as large, owned and controlled by foreign capital. Hold on to your timber lands, your iron and coal beds, and develop them slowly and surely. They are not distant money mines, but they are the source of wealth and power to the south, and we are tired of hearing that we must have money at any sacrifice. Hold on to your possessions."

Money is already hunting the south. The point insisted upon by us was that our natural resources should not be disposed of for a nominal price. If the owner of timber, coal or iron lands cannot command the capital to develop them he is, of course, justified in selling them to outside capitalists if he can get a good price. In many cases a stubborn refusal to sell would compel valuable property to remain comparatively unproductive for a long time. Our landowners should not throw away their possessions for a mere trifle, but on the other hand when they are offered a fair price for their property they should meet them half way and exercise their best judgment.

Prosperous Times Ahead.
The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record's special reports from all parts of the south make a splendid showing.

According to the Record's figures, our corn crop will be the largest ever raised, exceeding the crop of 1886 by over 50,000,000 bushels. Our contemporary says:

The yield of corn in the south for the last few years has been:

Year	Bushels
1881.....	438,270,000
1882.....	470,000,000
1883.....	518,513,000
1884.....	530,000,000
1885.....	530,000,000

*Estimated based on government reports.

Thus the increase in corn as compared with the crop of 1881 is 107,000,000 bushels; compared with 1882, 70,000,000 bushels; and with 1883, 50,000,000 bushels. This alone would vastly improve the condition of southern farmers, as the great drawback to their prosperity heretofore has been their dependence for corn and bacon upon the west. This year the south will be nearly self-sufficient in the matter of corn, and millions of dollars that have been paid for western corn and provisions will be saved. In many counties the farmers have raised enough corn for their own consumption, but it is claimed, have sufficient to supply their wants for two years. As our reports show, there are many places where the yield will run from 50 to 100 percent over the crop of 1886, but a conservative estimate based on official reports places the aggregate for the whole south at about 51,000,000 bushels over last year's crop, with the probability of the final returns showing a somewhat larger excess.

The indications point to a good cotton crop, if no serious disasters occur. Higher prices for tobacco will make up for the short crop. Wheat, oats and grasses have been produced in abundance.

All this is calculated to give an impetus to the commercial and industrial development of this region, and it will do more to invite investigation than anything else could have done. Prosperity attracts every favorable condition in the shape of enterprise and capital. We are entering upon an era of tremendous progress, and for some years to come we may count upon better times than have ever been known in our history.

Savannah.
Few cities in the south can make a more creditable showing than Savannah, the growing seaport city of Georgia. Her resources are set forth in detail elsewhere in today's CONSTITUTION, and the correspondence will be read by every Georgian with pleasure. The steady city, rich in historic interest, has for years been progressing with a steady gait, but lately she has put on a more determined air than ever, and is determined to give herself that rank her advantages merit. Savannah is pushing many other southern cities as she ought to do. With such fine facilities in the way of banking, private and mercantile capital, a fine surrounding country and sufficient depth of water in her harbor to float the largest vessels, and plenty of enterprise among her people, Savannah deserves all her success and progress, and THE CONSTITUTION is glad to let the world know it.

He Goes to Augusta.
THOMSON, Ga., September 3.—[Special.]—Mr. J. E. White, of the McDuffie Journal, has accepted a position as city editor of the Augusta Evening Chronicle. The managers of the Gazette did well in securing the services of Mr. White, to that important position on their paper. Mr. White will still edit the Journal and keep it up to its standard. He leaves Mr. Jerry D. Young in charge during his absence.

EDITORIAL POSTSCRIPT.

THE NEW YORK GRAPHIC refers to Rev. Dr. Morrison, of Atlanta, as one of the coming preachers of the United States.

IGNATIUS DONNELLY expects to make $100,000 by trying to lull the people on the authorship of Shakespeare's plays.

RICHMOND ANSWERS COLUMBIAN on her credit by calmly pointing to the fact that she recently sold $400,000 of four per cent bonds at $1.03.

THE DEAR DUKE of Marlborough is still the rage at Newport. The duke will carry a fine lot of American gossip when he returns to the shores of London.

AGOR CONSIDERED, McNELLY, of Saco, Maine, goes to the head of the defaulters' list. He was only nineteen, and he scooped over a quarter of a million.

THE NEW YORK SUN continues to furnish mournful evidence that Colonel Dana is still wandering far from his accustomed haunts. The colonel is badly needed at home.

TEXAS SKEPS A board of pardons, fully as much as Governor Ross was inaugurated, about seven months ago, over 300 applications for pardons have been sent to him.

SOME WILD Washington correspondents say that Mr. Carlisle will be appointed to the vacant place on the supreme bench. As Kentucky has only one judge on that bench now this is exceedingly probable.

IT IS STATED that Secretary Bayard and Assistant Secretary Porter are engaged in a profound constitutional controversy. We are pleased to learn that the officials of our elaborate state department are doing something.

JUST AS SOON as the United States Express company leased the Baltimore and Ohio express it watered the stock of the latter from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000. These millions of alleged watermarks by a stroke of the pen.

THE MANAGER of the Wellesley College is troubled to find a worthy successor. Mr. Freeman. That gifted young lady has decided that she would rather be the wife of a Harvard professor than president of the foremost female college in the land.

SENATOR RIDGEBERGER bought all the liquor privileges for the Shenandoah county fair for $100 and then refused to let a drop of liquor be sold in the grounds. The senator is thought to be doing penance for his recent naughtiness.

ROBERT RANDOM BUTLER, congressman from the first Tennessee district, is accused of selling his influence in the pending prohibition fight in Tennessee for $500. When Butler was in congress several years ago he was accused of selling a West Point cadetship.

THE RELIGIOUS EDITOR of the Cincinnati Enquirer says that a better rule of life can be found than is contained in these beautiful words of Micah: "And what doth the Lord require of thee, save to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

MEN RISE RAPIDLY in this country. Sixteen years ago William M. Singery was selling peanuts in Chicago. Now he is the proprietor of the Chicago Record and owns a superb yacht. Mr. Singery will be remembered as the gentleman who tried to run the recent Pennsylvania democratic convention.

EX-SENATOR ROSCOE CONKLING occasionally turns the heads of his span of roadsters away from Central Park for a spin on the boulevard. It has been noticed that on such occasions, as he passes the White Sulphur Springs Hotel, he invariably raises his hat and pays tribute to the dead man by holding it thus for a moment.

SOUTHERN SOCIETY.

Stiffness and Disagreeable Exclusiveness Unknown Among the Best Families.
From a White Sulphur Springs Letter.
The most notable characteristic of southern society, so far as it is represented at White Sulphur, is its lack of stiffness. It would seem that a descent from Mrs. John Rolfe, nee Pocahontas, or from those indefinable first lady residents who were auctioned off to the highest bidder by the days of Virginia, should not bring about social methods any different from the customs of the posterity of those fast and good-humored Dutch housewives who called cabbage for sauer kraut in New Amsterdam or fried liquor with dumplings in the shadow of Plymouth Rock. Nevertheless it is so.

The southern people are more at ease and less suspicious of each other. They all know each other's names, and they are all friendly. The commercial criterion is absent in the social tribunal. There is no artificiality about the society of the south. The society of the north is a population composed entirely of first and second cousins. It is not invaded by new people from outside districts who have come to give the outward and visible sign of an inveterate cold blood and to moral character and financial standing before all other social intimacies are exchanged.

A Courteous Request.
From Tid-Bits.
Bank President—"Mr. Bullion, I regret to state that I have discovered a trifling delinquency of $100,000 in your accounts."
Cashier—"I—"
President—"I have also learned that, although your salary is $200,000 a year, you are within the last week of purchasing real estate to the amount of another $100,000."
Cashier—"Really, sir, I—"
President—"And I have ascertained you are going to Europe for Montreal to-day. Now I have one request to make."
Cashier—"Name it, sir."
President—"Don't go until to-morrow. Give me one day's start."

MAKING IT CLEAR.

From the New Haven News.
Prof. Proctor figures that the earth is shrinking at the rate of one inch in a year. If you are afraid of this, don't worry. The shrinkage is about equal to that of a pair of summer pants.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES.

Chicago Inter-Ocean: New York has iron and pleuro-pneumonia.

WITH THE MORMONS.

The Story of a Woman Who Escaped From Them.

HER ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Enticed by Mormon Missionaries in a Weak Moment—The Results of an Unhappy Hour's Experience.

From the Kansas City Times.
I am a stranger in a strange land. If you are not too startled by the announcement, read on and see how I came to be.

Before I explain, however, let me narrate a brief history of my early life. Thirty-five years ago I came into existence in a little village on the banks of the rolling Seine. Here I passed the first uneventful ten years of my life among the most pleasant surroundings and under the careful guardianship of an old uncle, my parents having died before I was eight years old.

I was permitted at my most earnest solicitation to enter a girl's school long way from home. Here commenced the first troubles to darken my sunny life. I embraced my educational opportunities with much zeal and with a pardonable amount of confidence in myself, prepared to not only succeed but lead in all my undertakings. Studying having been my favorite occupation I had little doubt that all obstacles in my path could be easily and carelessly swept away. Alas! how false a human judgment! I soon discovered that the bright dreams of long cherished and nurtured ambition were dissolved and scattered by a stronger power than I. How bitterly I realized that all my fair castles were built on foundations of sand.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

CLAD IN A BED SPREAD.

Drummer Gould Involuntarily Makes a Dramatic Appearance in the Street.

From the New York Sun.

Charles E. Gould, young, tall and slim, created a good deal of amusement in Washington street, Brooklyn, between 7 and 8 yesterday morning. He is a drummer, and his business in line-sewing machines has been dull and three weeks ago, when he sought shelter in the boarding house of Miss Isabella Clancy at 183 Washington street, his resources were very low. He put on a bold front, however, and having musical ability, both vocal and instrumental, made himself an acceptable visitor to the parlor. He did not, however, pay his board bills, and Miss Clancy, when her patience became exhausted, consulted Bridge Policeman Thomas Early, one of her boarders. It was decided to resort to heroic treatment. Gould was arrested about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, by the entrance into his room of Mr. Early, who made a very emphatic demand for three weeks' board which he owed Miss Clancy. Mr. Gould assured Mr. Early that it was utterly impossible for him to pay up. He begged for one more week's delay. The policeman, however, was not to be moved. He was taken to the station, and with the permission of Miss Clancy, was conveniently closeted to the scene of negotiations, the entire wardrobe of Mr. Gould, with exception of the night robe, was removed, and he was hustled out of the room and locked up in a closet in an adjoining apartment. Mr. Gould was then told to get out.

time again stole away, and placing myself under the protection of an emigrant wagon, going east I remained with a feeling never again to genuine happiness than any I have ever known before that I was free. Again I steamed across the broad Atlantic, came to Italy, where I have since resided as matron of an asylum for the imbecile. Here I feel that I have an opportunity of fulfilling sphere of usefulness in the world, which I was beginning to fear I should never have an opportunity of doing. If my experience, told in my poor way, will serve as a warning to other young girls who contemplate yielding to the seductive importunities of the "devon" elders, I shall feel that I have done one good deed to lead for me in heaven. Indeed, there are more young women led astray as I was, than one would suppose. Many from my own village also lapsed with unrepentant faith to the voice of the tempter, and were lost. I yet hope to see polygamy blotted from existence, for is the greatest crime that ever rendered so long unpropitious.

CLAD IN A BED SPREAD.

Drummer Gould Involuntarily Makes a Dramatic Appearance in the Street.

From the New York Sun.

Charles E. Gould, young, tall and slim, created a good deal of amusement in Washington street, Brooklyn, between 7 and 8 yesterday morning. He is a drummer, and his business in line-sewing machines has been dull and three weeks ago, when he sought shelter in the boarding house of Miss Isabella Clancy at 183 Washington street, his resources were very low. He put on a bold front, however, and having musical ability, both vocal and instrumental, made himself an acceptable visitor to the parlor. He did not, however, pay his board bills, and Miss Clancy, when her patience became exhausted, consulted Bridge Policeman Thomas Early, one of her boarders. It was decided to resort to heroic treatment. Gould was arrested about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, by the entrance into his room of Mr. Early, who made a very emphatic demand for three weeks' board which he owed Miss Clancy. Mr. Gould assured Mr. Early that it was utterly impossible for him to pay up. He begged for one more week's delay. The policeman, however, was not to be moved. He was taken to the station, and with the permission of Miss Clancy, was conveniently closeted to the scene of negotiations, the entire wardrobe of Mr. Gould, with exception of the night robe, was removed, and he was hustled out of the room and locked up in a closet in an adjoining apartment. Mr. Gould was then told to get out.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me, numbing my faculties, enveloping me into a mist of uncertainty, and finally carrying me away in a perfect dream of despair. When I awoke I found myself in a strange land, and I was practically lost. Yes, lost; lost to myself, lost to my friends, lost to my home, lost to my country. I was alone in a strange land, and I was practically lost.

My spell seemed to have taken possession of me,

THE SHAM BATTLE

Will be One of the Most Attractive Features of the Exposition

GENERAL YOUNG AND HIS STAFF.

Further Returns from the Subscription—Over $4,000 Raised—Very Many Points of Interest.

It is thirty-six days from this morning, including Sunday, until the gates of the exposition will be opened to the public.

A SHAM BATTLE FOR THE PRESIDENT. And a Grand Military Review by the President—A Military Reception.

The military pageant, sham battle, and review on Wednesday, October 19th, at Atlanta will be the grandest spectacle ever seen in any state.

General P. M. Young, the youngest major-general in the confederate army, and a gallant and distinguished officer, has been made, by the exposition company, the general commanding the troops on that day, and has appointed the following officers as members of his staff:

General R. H. Anderson,
G. J. Wright,
J. Jones, of North Carolina,
Robert Johnson, of North Carolina, Montgomery Gardner, Alexander Montgomery.

C. C. Jones,
George Mercer,
Joseph Cummings,
J. H. Howard,
W. H. Feltz, of Idaho,
W. H. Feltz, of Idaho,
J. E. Thomas,
George Lamar,
T. E. Eves,
J. F. Pringle,
John Davidson,
W. Wilkins,
Frank Cox, of N. C., R. E. Eves,
H. H. Merriam, of Mo.,
C. C. Jones, of Ky.,
Miller Lumpkin,
John Davidson,
Clark Howell,
Hoke Smith,
Robert Lowry.

Dr. Willis Westmoreland and Dr. Charles Pickens have been appointed staff surgeons with the rank of colonel.

Mr. J. R. Holliday has been made assistant adjutant-general and the members of his cabinet accompanying him there will be present on the ground and taking part in the review, Governor Fitz Hugh Lee, of Virginia, with his military staff, Governor Richardson, of South Carolina, with his military staff, Governor Taylor, of Tennessee, with his military staff, Governor Gordon with his military staff, and in all probability Governor Sney with his staff. The governors with their military aides will make, themselves, a brilliant show.

Thirty-eight companies have already accepted the invitation to be present, and the number of companies will certainly be here, and the number may go to one hundred companies. The parade will be many times larger than anything yet seen in the South.

President Cleveland was promised that he would see the flower of southern chivalry in line in this parade, and the promise will be fully carried out.

The programme involves a sham battle, the grandest ever seen in this country. General P. M. Young, with Governor Gordon, Adjutant-General Keel, and others, have studied the grounds closely and arranged an elaborate plan for a strategic battle, which will keep up an hour and a half, and will show all the troops to the advantage.

The ground will cover about sixty acres. Four batteries of artillery will be engaged, and ten squadrons of cavalry, with several thousand infantry. The plan of the battle is approved by the best military authority, and the spectacle will be one not duplicated in a generation.

After the battle President Cleveland and his cabinet will review the troops, and President Cleveland will acknowledge the courtesy of the parade.

After the review President Cleveland will hold a military reception at the club house in Piedmont Park, lasting for three hours.

Eighteen military bands will take part in the parade held by the famous Second Artillery band which is now stationed at St. Augustine, and which contests with the Marine band of the United States.

The parade of young men and the escort to the president promises to be a grand success. Friday night's meeting is already bearing fruit, and the enthusiastic spirit is abroad throughout the city.

Every young man in Georgia should be in line that night.

MR. SENEY SENDS TWENTY PICTURES. The Finest From His Private Gallery, Which Equals the Finest in America.

The following dispatch was received on yesterday and will be read with pleasure by thousands:

New York, September 3.—Mr. H. W. Gray: In answer to your letter Mr. Seney asks me to say that he will send you twenty pictures from his private gallery to the exposition.

This is a most important announcement. The three finest galleries in America are Vanderbilt's and Seney's, of New York, and Walters's, of Baltimore. These three stand alone as the finest private galleries in the world.

Mr. Seney has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

rate has been made and some of the crack riders from that city will be here. The bicyclists in the north have taken great interest in the matter, and several professionals and amateurs of the New England and middle states will be shown up in the meantime our riders will try and make it interesting, and hold the honors in the south.

The Popular Subscription List.

We print this morning some additions to the popular subscription list to the Piedmont exposition, which carries the total to over four thousand dollars. We will keep the list open during the coming week, as there are many who have not yet subscribed, and who doubtless wish to do so, and we will print the result in the Constitution for the week ending September 11th.

FROM COLLECTORS &amp; SUBSCRIBERS' WILLS.

Isaac Robinson $3, George W. Winburn $1, John Leamont $1, C. A. Wilson $1, W. H. Bennett $1, Joseph Harrison $1, Edward Stubbs $1.

THROUGH EXPOSITION ROOMS.

W. M. Lowry $10, J. H. Yancy $10, Pine $5, Talmadge House $5, W. B. Crosby $5.

Total yesterday's subscriptions $44 25 Through Mr. Hurt, reported yesterday $372 15 Received acknowledged $372 15

Total to date $4,010 40

Ladies in the Art Department.

Mr. William Lyett was selected by Mr. Chamberlain yesterday as superintendent of the art department of the exposition. Mr. Lyett being immediately to organize the department. He is anxious to secure the help of the ladies and asks us to print the following announcement which he has made to the ladies of the south will head. He ought to have one thousand entries before the week is out.

ATLANTA, Ga., September 3.—The Ladies. The managers of the Piedmont exposition would like to have a representative collection of women's art work. They are anxious to know what you can send for exhibition. As it will require considerable time and study to select space for such a collection, and to size and description of your proposed exhibit, should be forwarded as early as possible. Respectfully, Wm. Lyett, Superintendent of Art.

Manager Ind. Art Dept., 674 Whitehall street.

The South Florida Railroad Wants Space.

Mr. McKoy of the South Florida railroad writes for space in the Piedmont exposition to exhibit the resources along his line of road. He wants eight acres of land, for offices, and says he will make a unique and interesting exhibit.

Floyd and the Piedmont Fair.

Rome, Ga., September 3.—[Special.]—An enthusiastic meeting of farmers was held at the city hall this morning to perfect arrangements for a creditable exhibit of the products of the Piedmont exposition. Another meeting will be held next Saturday.

CLARENCE AND LAURENCIO.

Initial Appearance of J. H. Fannin, Jr., in His New Play.

A great deal of interest is felt in the first appearance at the opera house tomorrow evening of James H. Fannin, Jr., in his tragedy Clarence and Laurencio.

Mr. Fannin is a young man of decided talent. He is the son of Captain J. H. Fannin, of LaGrange, well known throughout the South.

The son has been a resident of Atlanta for the past four years, and has made many friends, who wish him every success in his new venture.

Mr. Fannin has the greatest faith in his play. It was written by J. H. Fannin, Jr., about two years ago, and is entirely original.

The plot is laid in Italy, south of Rome. Clarence, the hunchback, is a wanderer from Rome and was followed by Laurencio, his brother. These two settled at the Pecorian vale. In a short time Clarence, by the successful management of his sword, became ruler of the domain. He won the hand, but not the heart, of a beautiful lady named Laurencio. Laurencio was the bearer of all that lady's true love. By underhand motives he caused her to fall from her husband, Laurencio. She, with the aid of Laurencio, tries to poison King Clarence who, however, is a witness to all their actions.

Eighteen military bands will take part in the parade held by the famous Second Artillery band which is now stationed at St. Augustine, and which contests with the Marine band of the United States.

The parade of young men and the escort to the president promises to be a grand success. Friday night's meeting is already bearing fruit, and the enthusiastic spirit is abroad throughout the city.

Every young man in Georgia should be in line that night.

MR. SENEY SENDS TWENTY PICTURES. The Finest From His Private Gallery, Which Equals the Finest in America.

The following dispatch was received on yesterday and will be read with pleasure by thousands:

New York, September 3.—Mr. H. W. Gray: In answer to your letter Mr. Seney asks me to say that he will send you twenty pictures from his private gallery to the exposition.

This is a most important announcement. The three finest galleries in America are Vanderbilt's and Seney's, of New York, and Walters's, of Baltimore. These three stand alone as the finest private galleries in the world.

Mr. Seney has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

Mr. Bradley has already selected over three hundred paintings, embracing the best artists, and has rejected more than a thousand as not up to the standard. Without Mr. Seney's pictures the art exhibit at the exposition would have been very much the poorer.

THE KENTUCKY WAY.

Another Zulu Shot Down in the Streets.

FIRED UPON FROM AN AMBUSH.

Jack Turner, Leader of a Vendetta, Pierced by Bullets—A Nephew of the Dead Man Suspected.

LOUISVILLE, September 3.—Information was received here tonight of the killing of Jack Turner, at Pineville, Bell county, Ky., Friday. Turner was the leader of a party in the mountain vendetta which has lasted more than twenty years. Besides his father-in-law and brother-in-law, he had killed three or four men, among them the sheriff of the county. The murder of the latter occurred about four weeks ago, while that official and a posse were attacking Turner's party, who made a desperate resistance, from a house. Turner was arrested, and being unable to obtain any one to go on his bond, was compelled to put up the amount in hard cash from his own funds. This he did, as he was well-off.

At the time of the murder, he was walking down the principal street of Pineville. He arrived opposite the leading hotel of the place, when a volley from a party of men concealed in one of the front rooms, felled him instantly. When his body was examined, it was found that he had been pierced by fifteen bullets from Winchester rifles, and one load of buckshot.

The vendetta alluded to originated in a family dispute. Bell county is one of the wildest of the lawless of the mountain counties, never having been touched until recently by a railroad. A jury which was empaneled after the murder and found that Jack Turner, a nephew of the dead man, and Bob Sowers, were members of the party who fired upon the dead man. The others were unknown.

A COWARDLY REVENGE.

Four White Men Shot a Negro and Throw His Body Into a River.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., September 3.—Last Wednesday evening, P. Coffman, Dick Walker, Charles Weisler, and Al McLaughlin, four white men, were shot and killed, located near Brunswick, Tenn., shot and killed a negro, named Jim Eastman. After ridding his body of the negro, they threw his body into the river and threw him into the river. The negro had a fight with Coffman, which was his only offense. Coffman has been arrested and committed to jail without bail. The other three, who were with him, are also being sought.

The German Crown Prince.

LONDON, September 3.—The crown prince of Germany left England today for Tyro, much improved in health. Dr. Mackenzie accompanied him.

PERSONAL.

M. M. MAUCK, wall-paper and paint dealer. Paper hanger, house and sign painter. G. H. TANNER, commissioner of deeds. DR. R. Y. HENLEY, dentist, 324 Whitehall st. or steamship agent, 30 Wall st., opposite car shed.

PREACHERS, doctors, dentists, electric shaft vouches. WALTER GREGORY, attorney-at-law, Jackson building. J. M. F. POWERS left last night for New Orleans.

MAJOR W. A. WILKINS, of Waynesboro, was in the city yesterday.

MR. GLASSCOCK BARRETT, of Augusta, spent yesterday in Atlanta.

COLONEL J. A. ANDERSON is expected home from the east today.

MAJOR JOHN W. GREEN, of the Georgia railroad, was in the city yesterday.

MRS. J. B. GREGORY, artist, has removed to 80 Capitol avenue, corner Jones street.

MRS. BEBLE C. DYKEMAN will resume her class in music. Residence 63 Fairlie street.

MISS JOSIE HARRIS, of Atlanta, is visiting the family of Hon. D. M. Russell, at Cedarburg, Ga.

MISS ELLIOTT and Master Walter Gallagher have returned from a visit to Tennessee.

TWO friends of Miss Georgia Hendrix will be pained to know that she is dangerously ill at her home.

DR. ROSE FREUDENTHAL, specialist, German and American dispensary, 105 N. Forsyth, corner Walton, Atlanta.

MR. W. A. LONG has gone back to his old quarters with Mr. Rich &amp; Bros, where he will be pleased to see his friends.

MISS CARLIE LOW GREGORY, who has been visiting Miss Alice Wilson of this city, left yesterday for her home in West Point.

HON. A. H. GRAHAM, one of the leading lawyers of Austin, Texas, accompanied by his family, are the guests of Mr. R. A. Johnson, West End.

WHISKY $1.50 up. No charge for jugs. Joseph Wolff, red store, opposite new East Tennessee passenger depot, Macon, Ga.

JOSEPH WOLFF, dealer in fine whisky. Jugs filled promptly. Red store, opposite new East Tennessee passenger depot, Macon, Ga.

M. B. DOWELL, having regained his health, is again attending to business at the old stand where he will be pleased to see his old patrons.

DR. A. W. CALHOUN, accompanied by Mrs. Calhoun, and his sister, Mrs. John M. Hill, of New Orleans, last night left for Washington, D. C., to attend to business.

REV. R. S. BARRETT will officiate at St. Luke's cathedral this morning at 11 o'clock and this evening at 8 o'clock. There will be holy communion at the morning service.

AN ANSLEY, of Roanoke, an accomplished young lady of Atlanta, who has been spending her vacation in Catesville, returned home this evening, to the delight of her many friends.

WINK TAYLOR, at the Arlington, Gainesville, Ga., sells Schneider's Eagle, B. &amp; H. W. Calhoun, Baker, Cutter and Nichols' whiskies, Schilling and Schweitzer beer, ales, porters, etc., suits, to suit.

MISS FRANKIE NELSON, daughter of Mr. L. B. Nelson, leaves Atlanta today for Boston, Mass. She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Nelson, and her sister, Miss Mary Nelson.

The Rev. Dr. Barrett will meet his congregation today and will doubtless receive a hearty welcome.

MR. CHARLES R. MCGINNESS, who was for some years a salesman in the carpet department of Chamberlain, Johnson &amp; Co., is now manager and buyer for the wholesale and retail carpet departments of Messrs. Ames &amp; Dwyer, Cincinnati. This is one of the largest wholesale and retail firms west of New York. Mr. McGinness has many friends in Atlanta who will be glad to learn of his success.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE, of "The Old Book Store," is the showiest and largest general advertiser in Atlanta. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly. He is a man of many talents, and his business is growing rapidly.

MR. BURKE

MISCELLANEOUS.

GREENMAN & CRANKSHAW
JEWELRY, ETC.
—Best Goods Made—
McBRIDE & CO.
29 Peachtree Street.
FRUIT JARS, FLY TRAPS, DRY-AIR REFRIGERATORS, CREAM FREEZERS, Gate City Stone Filters, HAYLAND'S CHINA,
Fine Cut Glass, Brass and Bronze Goods.
MODERATE PRICES.
—McBRIDE'S—
FOUR FABER'S
NO. 2 PENCILS FOR FIVE CENTS

To each scholar trying books from us. Largest Sketch Pad in the city for 5c. either ruled or un-ruled, with floral cover.

WILSON & BRUCKNER,
Leading Bookellers and Stationers, 6 and 8 MARKET STREET.

THE WEATHER REPORT.

Indications.
For Georgia: Slightly cool, fair weather; light fresh variable winds, generally northeasterly.

Daily Weather Bulletin.
OBSERVATIONS: SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1887.
U. S. CROTON HOUSE, September 3-9 p. m.
All observations taken at the same moment of actual time at each place.

STATIONS.

Mobile.

LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

ATLANTA DISTRICT.

MEETINGS.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

Obituary.

THE ATLANTA RIFLES.

What the Company Proposes to Do at the Piedmont Exposition.

The Atlanta Rifles held an enthusiastic and largely attended meeting in the armory last night.

The question: "What does the company propose doing in connection with the exposition?"
was discussed at considerable length and with an earnestness which showed how deep is the interest these soldiers feel in the approaching exhibition.

It was resolved that the company should have a place in the picture, and a prominent place, too. The members were in considerable vim. Recently the membership has so rapidly and largely increased that nearly twenty new uniforms have been ordered for those who have recently joined.

The new dress uniform is as handsome an anything ever seen in the south.

Never before was the company in so good a position as now. The members have been working hard to perfect themselves in the drill. Captain Sneed is just proud of his boys. They are a solid body of young men.
They confidently expect to make a creditable show in the competitive drill.

No definite action was taken with regard to the trip to Philadelphia. The members expressed a wish to go. The only obstacle in the way is the difficulty of getting off long enough to make the visit. Most of the members' employers are willing to grant them a leave of absence, but some few are not willing to do so. The matter will be decided in a few days.

Lemon Elixir.

A PLEASANT LEMON DRINK.

As prepared from the fresh juice of Lemons, combined with other vegetable liver tonics, cathartics, aromatic stimulants and blood purifiers. Fifty cents and one dollar per bottle. Sold by druggists generally.

Prepared by H. Myerly, M. D., Laboratory corner Pryor and Mitchell streets, Atlanta, Ga.

For biliousness and constipation take Lemon
Elixir.

For indigestion and foul stomach take Lemon
Elixir.

For palpitation of the heart take Lemon
Elixir.

For sick and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For sleeplessness and nervousness take
Lemon Elixir.

For loss of appetite and debility take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

For nervous prostration and melancholy take
Lemon Elixir.

For colds and nervous headaches take Lemon
Elixir.

For fevers, malaria and chills, take Lemon
Elixir.

THAT PLACE IS A BEAUTY.

J. S. Doyle, the New Jeweler, Opens a Most Beautiful House.

Why, he is the most expert and thoroughly trained watchmaker, jeweler and diamond judge in the south.

Years ago, when his face showed no signs of a beard, and he did not know the difference between a watch and a thrashing machine, he apprenticed himself to a watch factory in Springfield, Ill. He was naturally a watch maker and soon became an expert. Ten years ago he came to Atlanta and began work with Stevens & Co. Later he went behind the counter as a salesman and remained with the firm through all its changes until yesterday, when he sprang before the public with the nearest, noblest and most beautiful jewelry house in the south, located at 51 Whitehall.

The purest, the cleanest diamonds, the prettiest pins and rings, the most select table cutlery and ware and the finest goods generally are stored in his house. Mr. Doyle is a most personal attention to all sales and all repairs, and will satisfy all who call upon him.

Is it First?

What the great London Review says about the Liverpool Royal Insurance company, managed in the southern states by Barlee & Castleman, Louisville, Ky. Atlanta office—12 East Alabama street:

It is a singular circumstance, but one which is well worthy the attention of fire managers throughout the world, and also of the policyholders in the various fire offices, that, while the fire premium in the case of the Royal Insurance company shows a slight annual decrease, both in the years 1886 and 1887, the profit resulting from the fire business shows a steady increase. If a conclusive proof were wanted that it is the quality more than the quantity of the fire business which makes the difference in the annual reports of the Royal would conclusively establish this fact. In the year 1884 the premium income of the Royal was $1,000,000, and in 1885 it was $1,000,000. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund, which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income, there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192, including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of $419,658. The directors have, very wisely we consider, resolved to transfer $100,000 of the reserve fund,
which will be now brought up to $1,200,000, the consideration of $22,000 in premiums. The result has been, however, that the profit has been increased
again, and, although only by $11,000, the loss has been reduced to $1,000,000. The result has been, therefore, that, with a steady though small decrease of premium income,
there has been a corresponding increase in the percentage of fire losses, which, during the past year, show
something like 36.8 per cent. of losses to premium
income, a percentage, we venture to think, to be
paralleled by very few companies in the world.
The result of the operations of the Royal is a surplus
of the fire business alone of $1,125,000, which added to the interest on the fire fund, makes a grand total of $1,125,000. The Royal is a duly carried forward to the account.

The interest on other funds, not specifically belonging to the life branch, amounts to $67,082,
the general result being a balance of profit of $1,192,
including the amount carried forward from 1885 of

THE CRISON SCARE.

From the New York Times.

"How old did you say?" asked the commander-in-chief.

"Nineteen."

"And the man?"

"A little older."

The commander-in-chief puffed his cigar at thoughtful intervals. The war was by twenty-two years a thing of the past, but as head of a great commercial enterprise a military title still clung to him from out of his war experience, and he did not dislike it, for some of his war memories appeared to be his most cherished mental treasures. So he debated with his cigar over the two young people whose sentimental rashness had brought them into public notice, and as he debated he was looking backward over the diverse panorama of two decades of life, through the rifted smoke clouds of a great and gloomy future, and at the thought of a dream, but which to him was, perhaps, the best remembered incident of all the five years' fight. And when he told it, half musingly, the listeners did not wonder. The ways of Fate are very diverse, and it sometimes happens to the least imaginative in the maddening crowd that a face which is looked in only for a moment is never forgotten in all the length of the years that follow. Perhaps it was so with the commander-in-chief. Perhaps not. In any event, nobody dared to ask.

"In the fall of 1863," he began, "I was stationed with a detachment at Paint Rock, Ala. We were drawing on the money for supplies, foraging, in fact. Our crackers and hard tack we got from Stevenson, but for fodder for our horses and anything to add to the appearance of the frying pan we had to depend on the country. For some weeks I had sent out the wagon train to the east, the south-east, and down the valley of the Paint Rock creek. The only thing that was left in the region was the war, where, at a distance of 21 miles, was Huntsville, then the capital of northern Alabama, which, up to the time of the war, had been a wealthy, aristocratic, and fashionable city. Well, one pleasant morning I sent the wagon across the creek and followed them with a guard of 20 men. It was reported from time to time that the army was full of Confederate guerrillas, but we saw no signs of them, and for two months had no trouble whatever with any foe.

"After crossing the creek the wagon took a road which wound along the foot of a mountain, heavily wooded, and picturesque at our backs. We passed several small clearings and plantations, whose log houses were filled with blooded and hot-tempered southern women, whose evident desire to play with their fingers, rather than with their needles, was a source of hospitality for which the south is famous. At a distance of seven miles I halted the detachment at a cool but sinister-looking place in the deep woods. I had the country round about as 'the Gap.'"

"The Gap was the entrance to a pass through one of the outlying mountain spurs. It was a deep, narrow, heavily wooded gorge, the growth of towering pines and fir grew close to the roadside. The woody spaces were so filled with undergrowth and blocked by fallen trees that as you passed the dark and gloomy forest on either side a hostile army might have been sheltered there without your being able to perceive a hint. I remember the looks of the place because I had seen it in the past. I saw it in the past, and the last time but one that I saw it I came near staying there for good, as, in fact, some other poor fellows who were not so fortunate.

"Well, after we kept on, and a few miles further we came on a plantation of 700 acres, with a large and comfortable looking residence near the house. The wagon had reached there long before us. They were being rapidly filled from a row of well stored corn cobs at the door of the house. I had just gotten off my horse near the door when two girls came toward me, and if I were not telling this story, gentlemen, I would honestly declare that they were the two prettiest girls I ever saw in my life.

"They were both tall and slender, with graceful and womanly figures. They were dressed in dark blue and white, and their faces were intelligent and full of resolution, yet marked by that shyness which belongs to girls who are well bred and bred in comparative seclusion. The elder, Ellen, was dark-eyed and dark-haired. Addie was 17, two years younger than her sister, and a yellow-haired and blue-eyed blonde. The apparition they presented astonished us. I think all the men took off their hats instinctively. I know I did. And as my hat was a real Mexican sombrero, and matched the long Mexican spurs that jingled on their heels, I was rather fond of keeping it on my head.

"It was Ellen who spoke, the other staying a little behind. 'Sir, she said, in a trembling voice, 'you look like a gentleman. One of our men has taken your gun. It is all that we have left, and it is a great comfort. Will you not be good enough to have it returned?'"

"The girl was returned to her forthwith as quickly as the man could say that he had it. She was profuse in her thanks, and the light in the younger sister's eyes at the salvation of the instrument indicated how highly it was prized. The corn and supplies they did not appear to grieve over particularly, as I prevented any destruction of the crops or any unnecessary damage to the property. Consequently I was very hospitably received in the house. The family consisted of an old gentleman named Sunderland, his wife, and three daughters. Sunderland was a well-to-do planter, though too old to take arms. He was a doctor by profession and a Methodist preacher by choice. His family circle was in its refinement and the beauty of the girls, soldiering charming, particularly to the soldier who had spent two years had known only the roughness of the camp. The eldest daughter was married, her husband being a captain in the Confederate army. The other two were our fair petitioners, and with them I enjoyed a flattering degree of popularity from the start.

"The commander-in-chief stopped and gazed with a satisfied smile into the Alabama of twenty years ago.

"Well," he said, picking up the thread of the story, "I need only say that their fate was in my hands, that all in all I loved and war, and that from that day forth I simply owned the place, cornfields, negroes, and all. And Methodist preaching, and all that. And gentlemen—'and he dwelt with some particular and meaning emphasis upon the 'and.' "She, Ellen, was 19 and I was 23.

"During the next two months all our foraging somehow was in their direction. It seemed perhaps to the horses that everything available in the food line had migrated to the district back of the Sunderland plantation, which had to be passed in order to light on anything at all. There was something about the Sunderland cuisine, too, that must have appeared very tempting to my men, for I did not willingly, I believe, miss a meal. Ellen and I, in fact, were constantly together. The old folks made no objection. The blue eyes of the golden-haired sister beamed the sweetest kind of approval, the days were long, and the twilight of the dim old fire woods perfect, and I believe I mentioned the fact to the commander-in-chief with a sigh, 'that she was 19 and I was 23.'

"I might remark parenthetically that there is nothing so fascinating as being so isolated in the wilderness in company with a beautiful woman. Several books have been written with that one idea to carry them, and, like Charles Keeler's 'Ellen Play,' they have always caught the public's eye. There was no sentimental talk between us. The crack of the guerrilla rifle, the distant boom of battle, the war smoke in the air, and the peril when no one knew what a day might bring forth were very ill adapted for sincere love-making, and that anything in the shape of man could have made love to Ellen Sunderland, I sincerely felt it would take a pretty bitter cynic to believe. But we were together none the less; together when the tree shadows slept slowly across the lot, still, brown fields for the sun sank lower toward the mountains' summits; together in the stillness and loneliness of the moon-grown aisles of the woods; in the moonlight, together when the big round harvest moon hung still and shimmering like a great shield of gold balanced against the black velvet wall of the autumn night un-verse. What we said and what we did and what we thought of matters not. It would be to you very like a chestnut, perhaps, to dwell upon it. Every woman knows who has ever been 19; every man remembers who knew what it was to be 23.

"Well, one day when I entered the house I had a surprise. I had heard rumors of there being a wounded Confederate officer in hiding at the Sunderland. I had paid no attention to them, however, believing them to be without foundation. But on this day, entering the house as usual without knocking, I opened the door of the reception room or parlor, the first door on the right-hand side of the hall, which ran through the house. There was a large fire in the room, and I saw a man, high-backed, in front of the fire. I was instantly conscious in some way—I certainly saw nothing of him that was man and a stranger, and I saw a man that I did not attempt to see any more. I stepped out, closed the door, and quietly took a chair in the sitting room opposite the door. The door of the reception room came in hurriedly, pale and agitated.

"Mr. Sunderland," she gasped, 'did you go into the other room?'"

"Did you see anybody?"

"I did not," I answered very quietly. She looked at me, and I saw that she was not at all reassured. She bowed and, apparently relieved, passed out.

"She had scarcely gone before Addie came in. She was confused at seeing me in the sitting room.

"Oh, Mr. Sunderland," she said, and then stopped in perplexity.

"What is it?" I asked.

"I was going to ask—I—that is—Did you go into the other room?"

"I did," I said.

"Did you see anybody?"

"I did not."

"And then, with the same question on her lips, Ellen came in, ignorant of what had occurred. She was very pale, and her eyes, almost dead. She asked me the same question in a low, appealing tone. I did not like even a subterfuge with her. When she asked if I had penetrated the mysterious apartment I asked, shaking my head:

"And why? Is there anything in this house to conceal?"

"My sister, who had returned, shook her head in denial. It was no wonder. He was her husband, I suppose. I looked at Ellen and Addie. They looked away. They never looked at me, least of all; for they would not tell a lie, and they trusted me.

"Well, I heard no more of the stranger, and things ran on as before for a week or two. Then there came a rumor of the guerrillas in the neighborhood and we began to take extra precautions. I continued to call daily at the Sunderland, and one afternoon as I was going away Ellen seemed particularly uneasy. She was nervous, hesitating, and altogether unlike herself. I said good-bye to her at the porch and went out to my horse. As I was about to mount, she called me back, and I turned toward me, bearing a long, crimson silk scarf, with fine tassels of white silk at either end. She held it out to me, saying:

"I cannot rob you, I said. Outside of the guitar I believe it was the only thing of any value that I had left in my room."

"Please wear it," she said. And while I hesitated she deftly put it around my neck, and before I suspected had put her arms about my neck, and I was left with the scarf in my hands. I looked at her, quite staggered, in an altogether happy state of surprise, the tears sprang to her eyes, she turned away, and went back into the house.

"I rode down the road slowly. Her conduct was so strange, the memory of that kiss, the first and last ever given me, was so tedious that I could not think of anything else. My rein fell upon my horse's neck, and if there had been a hostile sharpshooter or a Confederate troop anywhere about I would have been as good as dead. I rode thoughtfully along during most of the way for four miles. Finally, as I approached the Gap, the old man spoke, the darkest and most secluded section of the whole distance.

"As I entered I heard some one calling behind me. In a line with me I recognized Jesh, my negro cook, who had been visiting some plantation. He was afraid, I suppose, and wanted protection, though I had with me no arms except my rifle. I turned up the shade of a big fir by a white fallen trunk in the Gap, and waited for him; waited perhaps five minutes, but he did not come. I had to go on. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

"Then, with the full story of the day, I journeyed onward. I stopped at a plantation some miles further down and waited for my men. They did not come. I went back to the Gap, and the old man, who had been waiting for me, said:

"I have a dead shot for any man in hiding who ever looked along a gun barrel."

NOW AND THEN.

A Chapter on County Fair in Kentucky.

THE OLD-TIME GATHERING OF PEOPLE.

And the Jolly Times at the Exhibitions of the Products—Rural Life in Old Kentucky.

LEXINGTON, Ky., August 25.—[Special correspondence.]—The evolution of the Kentucky fair as it now exists is a matter thoroughly in consonance with the changing aspect of the times. From a mere social gathering it has become a great aggregation of people who come together to see something worth seeing and which is brought there and exhibited by others who look of a pecuniary reward for their trouble and expense.

When I first knew this state, twenty odd years ago, the fairs in the fall of the year were much like old-fashioned camp meetings used to be in some of the counties. They were held on one day, sometime about the first of September for their local fair. A "ring" would be constructed in some shady blue-grass pasture, and the people would come from all over the county to see the show and to buy some cool and never failing spring. The "ring" was simply a few rough planks nailed together to form a circle, and the people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center. The people would stand in a space something like a hundred feet in diameter. To this there was a wide opening on one side, closing with bars, through which persons would enter. The show was a collection of mules and take them out. Around the ring carriages and rockaways and buggies were drawn up about four deep, their shafts pointing toward the center